

ATTORNEY GENERAL OF TEXAS
GREG ABBOTT

October 5, 2004

Mr. Marcus W. Norris
City Attorney
City of Amarillo
P. O. Box 1971
Amarillo, Texas 79105-1971

OR2004-8450

Dear Mr. Norris:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 210480.

The City of Amarillo (the "city") received a request for information relating to a specified police report. You claim that the requested information is excepted from disclosure under section 552.101 of the Government Code. We have considered the exception you claim and have reviewed the information you submitted.

Section 552.101 excepts from public disclosure "information considered to be confidential by law, either constitutional, statutory, or by judicial decision." Gov't Code § 552.101. This exception encompasses the common-law right to privacy. Information must be withheld from the public under section 552.101 in conjunction with common-law privacy when the information is (1) highly intimate or embarrassing, such that its release would be highly objectionable to a person of ordinary sensibilities, and (2) of no legitimate public interest. See Indus. Found. v. Tex. Indus. Accident Bd., 540 S.W.2d 668, 685 (Tex. 1976). In Open Records Decision No. 169 (1977), this office concluded that under certain "special circumstances," privacy under section 552.101 will protect information that ordinarily would be subject to public disclosure. Id. at 6-7. Such "special circumstances" encompass a very narrow set of situations. Id. at 6. They do not include a desire for privacy or "a generalized and speculative fear of harassment or retribution." Id. On the other hand, they do include situations in which release of the information would likely cause someone to face "an imminent threat of physical danger." Id.

We determine whether a request for information presents such "special circumstances" on a case-by-case basis. Id. at 7. In this instance, you seek to withhold affidavits that relate to an investigation of an alleged stalker.<sup>1</sup> You assert that the release of these affidavits could cause the suspect to resume her conduct or even to seek retribution against or intimidation of the affiants. Having considered your arguments and reviewed the submitted information, we find that special circumstances are present in this instance. We therefore conclude that the city must withhold the submitted affidavits under section 552.101 in conjunction with common-law privacy.

This letter ruling is limited to the particular records at issue in this request and limited to the facts as presented to us; therefore, this ruling must not be relied upon as a previous determination regarding any other records or any other circumstances.

This ruling triggers important deadlines regarding the rights and responsibilities of the governmental body and of the requestor. For example, governmental bodies are prohibited from asking the attorney general to reconsider this ruling. Gov't Code § 552.301(f). If the governmental body wants to challenge this ruling, the governmental body must appeal by filing suit in Travis County within 30 calendar days. Id. § 552.324(b). In order to get the full benefit of such an appeal, the governmental body must file suit within 10 calendar days. Id. § 552.353(b)(3), (c). If the governmental body does not appeal this ruling and the governmental body does not comply with it, then both the requestor and the attorney general have the right to file suit against the governmental body to enforce this ruling. Id. § 552.321(a).

If this ruling requires the governmental body to release all or part of the requested information, the governmental body is responsible for taking the next step. Based on the statute, the attorney general expects that, within 10 calendar days of this ruling, the governmental body will do one of the following three things: 1) release the public records; 2) notify the requestor of the exact day, time, and place that copies of the records will be provided or that the records can be inspected; or 3) notify the requestor of the governmental body's intent to challenge this letter ruling in court. If the governmental body fails to do one of these three things within 10 calendar days of this ruling, then the requestor should report that failure to the attorney general's Open Government Hotline, toll free, at (877) 673-6839. The requestor may also file a complaint with the district or county attorney. Id. § 552.3215(e).

If this ruling requires or permits the governmental body to withhold all or some of the requested information, the requestor can appeal that decision by suing the governmental body. Id. § 552.321(a); Texas Dep't of Pub. Safety v. Gilbreath, 842 S.W.2d 408, 411 (Tex. App.—Austin 1992, no writ).

<sup>1</sup>You state that the rest of the submitted documents were provided to this office for purposes of background information. You do not indicate that the requestor seeks access to any of the background information. Accordingly, this letter ruling is applicable only to the requested affidavits and does not address the public availability of any other information that you have submitted.

Please remember that under the Act the release of information triggers certain procedures for costs and charges to the requestor. If records are released in compliance with this ruling, be sure that all charges for the information are at or below the legal amounts. Questions or complaints about over-charging must be directed to Hadassah Schloss at the Texas Building and Procurement Commission at (512) 475-2497.

If the governmental body, the requestor, or any other person has questions or comments about this ruling, they may contact our office. We note that a third party may challenge this ruling by filing suit seeking to withhold information from a requestor. Gov't Code § 552.325. Although there is no statutory deadline for contacting us, the attorney general prefers to receive any comments within 10 calendar days of the date of this ruling.

Sincerely,
